

Chiapas, Mexico

Eduardo Hernandez Bonifaz

Pastor Charlie met Eduardo on a missionary trip to San Cristobal, Chiapas, Mexico. All the pastors in that area spoke very highly of him because he boldly goes out to the most dangerous and persecuted areas of Chiapas. He reaches out to Muslims (a very large percentage of the population) with the gospel. He does many outreaches to children. He even goes to the large narco dealers and tells them about Jesus Christ.

Eduardo and his wife also have adopted abandoned children, and he preaches in jails and holds pastors' conferences to encourage and train other pastors.

Chiapas is the southern-most state in Mexico with the most persecution of evangelical Christians. It is the darkest state in Mexico. Please pray for Eduardo and his family.
